Drama Builds...

CONFIDENCE

Even the shyest of children take just a few hours to gently defeat their apprehensions. Before long, they are confident to take active part in sessions.

LANGUAGE & COMMUNICATION SKILLS

Learning new songs, playing new games and participating in pretend play or projection play (where children speak, think and behave in the language of the role they are playing) all contribute to children developing communication skills. They are encouraged to express themselves verbally, through facial expressions and through body language. These are keys to making them better and more effective communicators.

NUMERACY / SPECIAL SKILLS

In Genius Dramattitude, children don't ever guess they are learning along the way - counting the number of beats in a song, how to use space, entry, exits, movements, cues to the beats of background music, are just a few examples of how being involved in a drama can help to develop important numeracy and special skills.

PHYSICAL ACCEPTANCE

In each session we will play simple percussion instruments, create simple movement sequences, make simple sounds and play drama games - all designed to help children practice acceptance over their own growing body (and its looks).

FRIENDSHIPS

By its very nature, drama has the ability to create strong friendships between children as they laugh, learn and grow together week after week after week!

CONCENTRATION

In every session, children are encouraged to listen and to observe. They not only listen to the facilitators, but to each other's ideas and thoughts as well. These activities allow children to develop and understand the value of concentration; a skill that is vital for success in the world outside.

EMOTIONAL INTELLIGENCE

By encouraging children to 'act out' a range of emotions in the safe and supportive environment of a Genius Dramattitude session, children are better able to understand their emotions, deal with their emotions and develop empathy for others.

CO-OPERATION

Every activity in Genius Dramattitude, from playing drama games to improvisation to singing together, to feeling and performing as ONE unit, requires co-operation. Children quickly realise that in order to get the best out of sessions, co-operation is much needed! And they DO co-operate!

UNDERSTANDING THE WORLD AROUND US

We will explore a range of different themes and introduce children to different real and imaginary situations, sparking their interest in the world in which they live. It will make them more inquisitive and therefore more interesting gem of a person. They may never say again that they are 'bored'.
Super, isn't it?

CREATIVITY

Creative people are able to view things in new ways and from different perspectives. They think on their feet and generate new ideas. These are vital life skills. Our child led approach to improvisation and projection play, encourages the development of creativity. Children will come up with solutions to problems in role, and respond imaginatively to a range of pretend situations.
